About this book

This book is from Children and Young People with Disability Australia or CYDA.

This book has some hard words.

XXXX

XXXX

Hard words are bold.

We tell you what hard words mean.

You can ask someone to help you read this book.

We made this book on Aboriginal land.

This book is about our zine.

A zine is a small magazine.

We made the zine for our summit.

The summit was an event for disabled young people.

What is the zine about?

The zine is about 3 ideas.

Identity and empowerment is about

- how to speak up

- how to tell your story.

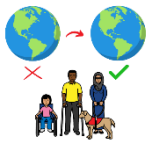

Community is about

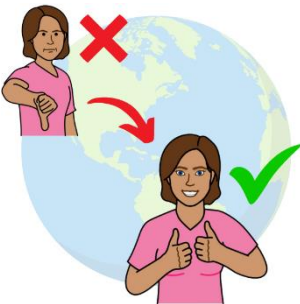

- how to ask for help

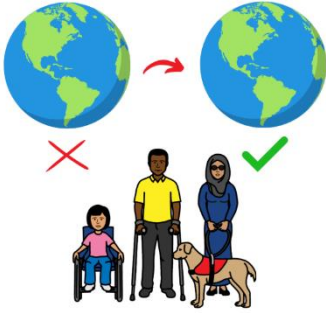

- how to help others.

The last theme is systemic and grassroots advocacy.

Systemic advocacy means you try to make change for all disabled people.

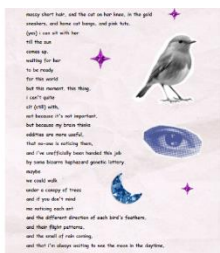

Grassroots advocacy means lots of people work together to make change.

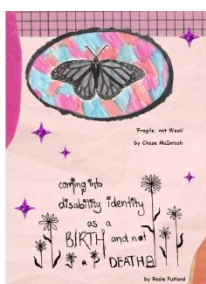

The zine has art by disabled young people.

The zine has

- poetry

- drawing

- sculptures.

Some of the art is about disability pride.

Disability pride means you are not less because of your disability.
